

To FCC enforcement officials and Election Law enforcement agencies

Dear FCC

As a citizen concerned for the well being of our Democratic Republic I sincerely regret hearing the news that Sinclair Broadcasting is insisting their stations air an anti-Kerry documentary a few days before the 2004 Presidential Election. I believe this is a violation of FCC rules concerning the public good and further believe it is a violation of election campaign contribution law.

It is my understanding since Sinclair's companies are licensed to use our Public Air waves and have by contract a responsibility to serve the public good, it is your responsibility to stop any violation of that law.

Since Broadcast companies are "obligated by law to serve the public interest", it is my hope that you at the FCC will hear my plea to take your enforcement responsibilities seriously and put a quick stop to this unlawful and misleading use of our public airwaves.

It is also my hope your agency will demand accountability in the strictest sense of the law and pass on this issue to any other enforcement agencies for possible violation of other federal laws. Your fellow Americans want you to restrict and deny licensing permits to any broadcast companies that violate federal laws.

Please stop Sinclair from broadcasting this program in the manner intended, which seems to be to mislead the public, in partisan effort to support one political party by a corporation. This is a violation of the public interest and I understand it is your duty to enforce our law in our interest.

Federal election campaign contribution violations may as well be considered for Sinclair giving free air time only to one political party. Please pass this request on immediately to the appropriate agencies of Election Law consideration so this obvious intent to mislead us all will not become more of a problem.

In fairness to us all and in the public interest, please, if there is anything you can lawfully do to stop this intent to mislead the public through use of public airwaves, please do it immediately.

Make it clear in your actions that no such further programing will be tolerated or aired without fair and clear statements of the factualness of any information presented and equal time for opposing views.

Thank you for your efforts,
Sincerely,
Mr. Robert T. Clouthier
